My family members and relatives of my house of Father – in – Law, they are always support to improve of my academic life. My heartfelt thanks go to my father and mother, father in law and mother in law. During this research period, I have lost my father and father in law. They were wanted to see me as a Doctorate, but they passed away before the achievement. So, I dedicated my Doctoral Degree to them.

Last but not the least, I am specially indebted to my wife Sabina Parveen, because I could not completed my present research without her limitless patience, heartiest love and over all, entire support. She has fully relieved me from all responsibilities of my family. She has always been the inspiration to work with honesty, philosophy with modesty and encouraged as a human being to build a better World through the better and hard work. Two little angles, those who have been inspiring always to me for living with love and joy, they are my lovely children, lots of love only for them....SARA PARVEEN and SOHA PARVEEN.
