

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I take this opportunity to sincerely acknowledge the valuable guidance and constant cooperation extended by my supervisors, Dr. Nikhiles Guha, Professor (Retd.), Department of History, Kalyani University, West Bengal, India. Whenever I feel any sorts of difficulties during the entire courses of my Ph.D. work his guidance, clarification and encouragement have boosted me to complete it.

I am also thankful to Prof. Sujaya Sarkar, Prof. Ujjawan Bhattacharya, Mrs. Shamita Sarkar, Mr. Goutam Chanda Roy, Dr. Debjani Das and Mr. Shyama Prasad De of Vidyasagar University for many valuable suggestions made in the course of preparation of this thesis.

I am thankful to Mr. Bibek Paria, Mis. Shama Firdoush, Md. Abul Basar, Mr. Asit Pandit, who have helped me by providing with necessary information and valuable suggestions made in the course of study period.

I also put on record the help that I took from the work of many eminent authors of various books, reports, research papers and articles, etc. without which I would not be able to complete my thesis.

I acknowledge the immense benefit that I have derived from the librarians and the members of the Backward Classes Welfare Department, Kolkata, National Library, Kolkata and Central Library of Vidyasagar University, District Library, Midnapore.

I express my gratitude to my respected parents Pramatha Nath Das and Usha Rani Das, my elder brother Dr. Pinaki Das. I am also thankful to my wife Kasturi Das and son Abhranil Das, relatives and other family members for their constant inspiration.

However, I am alone responsible for the error remaining in the study.
