

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

For the completion of the thesis, I am indebted to many persons. First of all, I express my sincere gratitude to Professor Sankar Prasad Singha, my supervisor. He always showed me the right way whenever I lost sight of the track in the process of writing the thesis. Many times I went wayward in my thinking and writing, but he brought me back on track with his unfailing foresight. He meticulously checked the draft of my thesis and pointed out to me where I made mistakes and how those mistakes could be rectified. He has taught me how to present the argument in a compact way. I have also learnt from him how to write a thesis in a precise and disciplined manner, a lesson I shall never forget. In short, without his untiring guidance, I would not have been able to write the thesis. I owe to him a debt that can never be repaid.

I also express my gratitude to Dr. Debashis Bandopadhyay, Professor and Head, Department of English, Vidyasagar University, who has always been very helpful whenever I approached him relating to my study. I also extend my gratitude to Professor Joyjit Ghosh and Professor Indranil Acharya who have shown keen interest in the progress of my work.

I specially thank Dr. Debdas Roy, Associate Professor and Head, Department of English, Sukumar Sengupta Mahavidyalaya, who was my supervisor in the initial days of my research.

I do not like to miss the opportunity to thank my colleagues Dr. Ujjwal Kr. Panda, Dr. Madhusudan Bera and our Officer-in-Charge Dr. Shaishab Kumar Dinda who have always encouraged me to complete the thesis. I also convey thanks from the core of my heart to Dr. Uttam Kumar Guru, Assistant Professor and Head, Department of English, Sunderban Hazi Desarat College, for his help and support.

Last but not least, I thank my family members for their constant moral support.

Midnapore, West Bengal

Pabitra Kumar Rana

November, 2019