

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

At the outset, I would like to express my heartfelt gratitude to Dr. Debasish Biswas, Assistant Professor, Department of Business Administration, Vidyasagar University, and Dr. Tarak Nath Sahu, Assistant Professor, Department of Business Administration, Vidyasagar University, who have been my supervisors for this study. They tolerated all my shortcomings and only because of their patience and expectation that I could complete my research work.

I take this opportunity to thank Dr. Madhurima Ganguly and Ms. Sreyasi Sengupta because during an adda with them over cups of coffee we discussed a lot about the industrial relations situations in our state which ultimately over a period of time developed into my research topic.

I am grateful to many of my colleagues for not only extending their cooperation but also for encouraging me in this endeavour. Smt. Arunima Biswas, Smt Ananya Duttachowdhury, Smt. Sukanya Bhattacharya, Dr. Kingshuk Sarkar, Sri Ritwick Mukherjee, Sri Pratap Das, Sri Samaresh Dhara, Sri Chiradeep Mukherjee are to name a few. I also express my gratitude to my immediate superior Md. Rizwan without whose support it would not have been possible for me to complete the work.

I also take this opportunity to express my gratitude to all the teachers, scholars and staff of the Department of Business Administration of Vidyasagar University for their cooperation. I would also like to acknowledge here that the courteous behaviour and helpful attitude of all the staff, officials and faculty members of this University to whom I came in touch with and the names of most of whom I do not even know made my visits to this University a pleasant experience.

I also owe a deep gratitude to the authorities and particularly the members of the Ph. D. Cell of Vidyasagar University who inspired me and helped me.

Last but not the least, I must acknowledge the role played by my daughter Veda and my wife Shampa Dutt Paul. The wonder in their eyes pushed me...
