

M.Phil 1st Semester Examination, 2019*ANTHROPOLOGY*PAPER –ANT-115(SA)Full Marks : 50Time : 2 hoursThe figures in the right-hand margin indicate marksCandidates are required to give their answers in their own words as far as practicableIllustrate the answers wherever necessary*

1. Answer four questions from the following : 5 × 4
- (a) Write the importance of emic approach in anthropological research.
  - (b) What do you understand by Rapid Rural Appraisal (RRA) ?
  - (c) Differentiate Action Anthropology from Applied Anthropology.

- (d) Discuss the criteria taken into consideration while selecting a key informant.
- (e) Briefly discuss different types of interviews employed in anthropological research.
- (f) Write about the advantages and disadvantages of collecting data through questionnaire schedule.

2. Answer two questions from the following : 10 × 2

- (a) Write a note on the approaches followed in Participatory Rural Appraisal(PRA) method mention its advantages and limitations.
- (b) Discuss the scope of action anthropological research in the Indian context.
- (c) Write on the utilities and limitations of participant observation.
- (d) Discuss how anthropologists use field and archival data with suitable examples.

[ Evaluation of Assignment — 10 Marks ]

---