

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The research work presented in this thesis was conducted by me as a Ph.D. student at the Department of Biochemistry, Vidyasagar University at the joint supervision Dr. Bidyut Bandyopadhyay, Associate Professor, Department of Biotechnology, Oriental Institute of Science and Technology, Vidyasagar University, Midnapore and Dr. Madhumita Maitra, Assistant Professor, Department of Microbiology, St. Xaviers' College, Kolkata. The work has been focused on developing new strains of probiotic organisms as a therapeutic tool against gastro-intestinal disease, which can be a health promoting alternative of the conventional therapies without side effects.

Prior to thank all the persons who helped me in my work, I would like to convey my gratitude to the almighty God for bestowing the competence on me to proceed with my plan of work.

I am deeply obliged to my supervisor Dr. Bidyut Bandyopadhyay for his endless contribution which made my Ph.D. experience productive and stimulating. Besides being a phenomenal teacher, an exceptional scientist, his love and patience helps me to continue my work thick-and-thin. Along with him, I am also highly indebted to my joint-supervisor Dr. Madhumita Maitra for her immense support and the lesson taught throughout the course of work.

I am indebted to Vidyasagar University for allowing me to register as a research scholar. I also convey my gratitude towards Dr. Subrata De, Dean Faculty of Science, VU and Dr. Amiya Kr. Panda, Dept. of Chemistry, VU for their co-operation and best wishes.

I will also like to utilize this opportunity to offer my gratitude to all of them whose collaborative associations makes my experimental work flawless and easy to commence. The immunological work was performed in collaboration with one of the emerald scientist in biology, Dr. Santi Prasad Sinha (Professor, Dept. of Zoology, Visva-Bharati) and his student Dr. Suprabhat Mukherjee (Asst. Prof., Dept. of Animal Sc., Kazi Nazrul University). The histological study was performed under the guidance of Dr. Koushik Bose (Dept. of Pathology, Burdwan Medical College & Hospital). And, the molecular characterizations were highly supported by Dr.

Somasree Dam (Dept. of Microbiology, The University of Burdwan) and student Pinaki Biswas.

I would like to specially mention my deep gratitude towards Dr. Anindya Sundar Panja for his perpetual guidance, co-operation and encouragement as a senior as well as my elder brother. I am beholden towards Mrs. Lisa Banerjee (TIC, BIMS) for her liaison throughout the tenure of my Ph.D. work. The motivations and the suggestions of Arpita Di, Debjani mam, Mir Sir, Subhas Sir, Srimoyee mam, and all other faculties and staff member of BIMS, OIST and OIHS made my journey easy during the tough times of my work. Along with that Suchand da and Suresh da assisted a lot during my research work.

I convey my gratitude towards Late Dr. Jaggat Bandhu Medda (President, OAER), Dr. Nandan Gupta (Vice-President, OAER), Shree Achintya Mondal (Secretary, OAER), Mr. Satyaraj Adityanshu Medda and all other respected members of OAER for the encouragement and co-operation. I convey my heartiest acknowledgement towards Dr. Smarajit Maiti, TIC, OIST, Mednipur and the other entire faculties and staff member for their kind support and appreciations.

I would like to proudly mention that the love, strength and encouragements of my parents, seeded the confidence in me to move forward at every circumstances. It was the dream of my Baba as well as my Dida and the sacrifices of my Maa that fuels me to fight with all the obstacles and to achieve the Ph.D. degree. I can't express enough my feelings of appreciation towards my best friend as well as my husband Mr. Arijit Sukul, who not only supported me but also bestowed his constant love, patience, energy, guidance, sincerity and involvement in every aspect while finishing up my Ph.D. I am also obliged for the continuous motivations of Bapi and Mamoni and for keeping faith on me.

I am favored with the divine presence along with the accompanying blessings and love.

ATRAYEE ROY